Hi Steve

Further to my last update and my conversation with you earlier, Sergeant Paul DeCarlo called requesting all Peiracon jersey barriers to be delivered to CBSA. I recommend that in this operation, Paul can contact Peiracon directly as we are concentrating to assist the front line. Further, my resource is thought as I will have to split my crew to Winter Control operations shortly.

We will maintain front-line support with the police and our Winter operations.

Windsor PD can coordinate the support for the stockpile of the Jersey Barriers.

The contacts for Peiracon:

Manager -Jeramireh Baker: [REDACTED]

Owner- Jamie Pieracenzi: [REDACTED]

For logistics and maximization of these operations, I recommend the contractor to arrange for 2 or 3 flatbeds running round trip, unloading equipment (excavator so you can stack for storage) estimate would be 40 jersey barriers per hour.

If you want additional input for the operations or further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Regards,

Good Morning again.

Just a quick update for everyone. We are working with onsite police to block off every driveway and access using jersey barriers as the front line is moving forward.

Just a side note, at 9 AM 4 loads (about 48 pcs) Jersey Barriers From McLean Taylor onsite presumably from MTO operation.

Good Morning,

Last night was quiet, we just got further instruction to work with the police to advance the perimeter. I have instructed our supervisor to keep 2 jersey barriers on the median nearby the front line for quick access during reloading time. Pieracon will keep running a load of jersey barriers, leaving it on the truck and unloading them as instructed by our police.

Further to Emily's email below. Pieracon has 200 jersey barriers available up in the front. They have 600+ jersey barriers total but they have to get into their stockpile. We have access to all if needed. I instruct them to replenish the jersey barriers as we are using them up.

As Emily mentioned. I recommend that we don't stockpile as your perimeter is getting larger and logistic of moving back and forth is time-consuming.

This morning there will be a snow event. We will try to make an arrangement to secure a second loader as we might need this loader back for the Winter Control event. We will maintain both operations as required.

Good evening all,

I just want to provide an update...I ended up helping out Marc so that he could focus on other tasks.

- Your team will be ready at 7am and you have a smaller team working overnight ready to assist if required (call in time would be too long so they will stay tonight)
- The jersey barriers are available and ready for use at Peracon on Cherry Blossom Dr. near the Salt Mines and will not be staged anywhere as it would not be worth the work/time
- There are approx. 100-200 available to us (I honestly forget what Rob said to me – Rob thank you for putting up with my tired brain)
- It took 10 hrs to set up the 50 barriers that are currently in place
- If for example we required a larger number of barriers to be set up quicker (just trying to plan for the worst) Peracon has said if we provided the trucks/excavators/drivers, they could load them
- Residential areas take longer but police have had cruisers assisting and will do so as long as the resources are available
- All Police are able to provide is that the jersey barriers could be needed anywhere within a block surrounding Huron Line from College to EC Row because they don't know what exactly will happen
- As much as possible, Police will do their best to ensure your team is aware of the single point contact on the ground. If that contact changes, they will do their best to notify you.

Marc [REDACTED] is working until 7am, Jen will be the contact come 7am. I am going to bed. Hope that all makes sense.

Thank you city team for all the hard work I know you and your staff are putting in. I know moving jersey barriers isn't an easy process but we are here in the EOC saying how great it is to see them in place. Go team.

Em

I cannot not thank you all enough for everything you have done on extremely short notice today and during an extremely difficult situation. I know we have had so many asks of you and your employees and you have stepped up to assist and bend over backwards for us. Please extend my thanks to everyone on ground and behind the scenes.

Thank you again.
